EDITION 2

Readers' Theater Teacher's Guide

A Letter to Lincoln

Weekly Reader, Edition 2, is proud to present its first online Readers' Theater play for second graders, an exciting read-aloud opportunity that builds oral expression and fluency. This original play is about 11-year-old Grace Bedell's famous letter to Abraham Lincoln. Bedell thought that if Lincoln grew a beard he would win the presidential election. We hope that your students enjoy this play in celebration of Presidents' Day. We appreciate your feedback. Please e-mail us at ed2@weeklyreader.com to tell us what you think.

Characters and Casting

You may want to assign roles based on students' reading abilities.

- Fluent readers: Grace, Mother, Jennie, Mr. Mann, House Narrator 1, House Narrator 2, Lincoln Narrator, Post Office Narrator
- Struggling readers: Lincoln, Levant, Father

After You Read

Ask: What would you write about in a letter to President George W. Bush? How do you think he might respond?

Costume Direction

Make an Abraham Lincoln Hat

Make a cylinder out of a large rectangular piece of black construction paper and tape it together. Cut out one small circle and one large circle from the black paper. Tape the smaller circle onto one end of the cylinder. Cut a hole in the center of the larger circle and attach it to the open end of the cylinder.

Create Lincoln's Beard

Paint several cotton balls black. Then cut black construction paper into a shape that resembles a beard. Punch holes in the two top corners of the "beard." Tie string to the holes, making loops that will fit around a child's ears. Glue the painted cotton balls to the "beard."
