Happy Constitution Day!

Read the story. Then complete the crossword puzzle below.

What might your classroom be like if it had no rules? It might be fun for a while, but how would you feel if a classmate could take your things without asking? Your classroom needs rules. They help make sure everyone is safe and is treated fairly.

A long time ago, when our country was new, it needed rules too. That is why we have the United States Constitution. George Washington and other leaders wrote down rules that everyone must obey. They signed the Constitution on September 17, 1787. The rules in the Constitution are called laws. They protect the rights of all Americans. Let's celebrate Constitution Day!
